

Problem Statement:

Retail investors and traders often struggle to make timely and informed investment decisions because stock market information is scattered across multiple platforms. They need to manually track live stock prices, monitor breaking news, and interpret market developments, which is time-consuming and can lead to missed opportunities or poor decisions. There is a need for an intelligent, automated solution that can instantly fetch live stock data, gather the latest relevant news, analyze market sentiment, and deliver concise, actionable insights through a user-friendly platform such as Telegram, enabling users to make faster and better-informed investment decisions.
